The Faculty of Tropical AgriSciences of CZU Prague (FTA) is a unique workplace of its kind in Europe with a sixty-year tradition. It is focused on the issues of agriculture, rural development, and sustainable management of natural resources in tropical areas. Faculty graduates find employment as consultants in international organisations, institutions, or research centres. Thanks to the active support of responsible consumption and fair trade, FTA received the title of Fairtrade Faculty. The faculty building won as the best project responding to climate change in the Adapterra Awards competition. The facilities and modern laboratories enable students to learn with the possibility of personal growth, including involvement in scientific projects domestically and abroad.

The Institute of Education and Communication provides pedagogical education and system education for staff of secondary vocational schools and training institutions. Specifically, it offers study in programmes focused on obtaining a pedagogical education and on career counselling in education. The institute has a richly developed network of workplaces for professional and pedagogical practice. Cooperation with foreign universities and organisations dealing with the training of teachers and counsellors is also essential.

Scholarships

■ CZU Prague does not offer full scholarships as the study programmes are already subsidised by the government to provide affordable tuition fees. However, the university does offer merit and accommodation scholarships. You can find out more about these here.

■ At some faculties, students may also get a tuition reduction based on their grades.

Residence Halls & Refectory

The advantage of the CZU dormitories is their location on the university campus. Prices range from roughly 107 EUR to 180 EUR for one month of standard accommodation, and from 255 EUR to 420 EUR for premium accommodation. CZU also offers housing in a former hotel Fortuna West in Prague 6-Řepy, roughly 35 minutes from campus and 17 minutes from the city centre.

Our university refectory (Menza) offers lunch and dinner. You can choose from sweet or savoury, meat or vegetarian dishes, salads, and deserts. Each student can use the subsidy programme and get a meal for a very affordable price.

Farm estate Lány

The estate comprises 2 800 hectares of farmland. In the animal husbandry programme, the estate manages cattle herds as well as horses, pigs, and poultry. Various methods of agricultural production are applied. The estate is also involved in farm breeding of Eland Antelopes and Guanaco Llamas. Students learn in practice all aspects of crop and animal production. They get to know this place not only during lessons and excursions but also as interns who directly participate in the work of individual centres and farms of the estate.

Viticultural centre Mělník

The centre, located in a 17th-century fully restored vineyard house, cultivates around 20 hectares of vineyards of quality wine stock. Each year, wines from the CZU production win prestigious prizes at wine exhibits and are a part of the top Czech wine collection. In addition to its own production, the centre is intended for practical teaching of students in several study programmes. Students can also carry out practical experiments here when creating final theses. The centre includes modern classrooms and offers accommodation for students.

Forest establishment Kostelec and Černými lesy

Every year, the school forest establishment organises practical sessions for students who can verify their theoretical knowledge in practice. Students participate in afforestation, cultivation of stands and mining. They are involved in the production process in the centre of ornamental and forest nurseries, in the centre of wood production and the centre of transport handling.
